On different occasions, the band participated in many local parades, including the "For God and Country" parade on September 26.

On December 8, several members of the band participated in the New England Solo and Ensemble Music Festival held at Boston University. The following were awarded medals at this festival: Susan Detora, flute solo and Bruce Houston, trombone solo. These medals enabled Susan and Bruce to attend the New England Music Festival at Rutland, Vermont, March 28-30.

On May 4, the band participated in the Northeastern Massachusetts Music Festival at Boxboro.

The group also performed on May 10 at the annual spring concert, and on June 7 at graduation.

A concert given by the entire chorus and band was presented in the high school auditorium to the Kittredge School children.

The annual Spring Concert was given on May 10 and featured a variety of selections from various periods in musical history. As in every year, members of the undergraduate chorus sang at graduation.

Several members of the chorus participated in extracurricular music activities. Meanwhile, at Boston University on December 8, soloist Katherine Morris and a girls' double trio composed of Alana Walker, Gaye Kouyoumjian, Katherine Morris, Mary Kirk, Donna Kress, and Carol Rigoli, accompanied on the piano by Carol Ota, won top honors at the New England Solo and Ensemble Auditions. Carol and Diane Ota also won top ratings for their piano selections and were asked to represent all the pianists present at a concert attended by more than 400 students. As a result of their fine performances, these talented young people were given the opportunity to take part in the New England Music Festival held in Rutland, Vermont, March 28-30.

ART

Miss Jeppesen demonstrating still life arrangement.

The art classes of North Andover High School, which are under the direction of Miss Ingrid Jeppesen, have displayed their artistic ability this past year in various ways. During the Christmas Season, the Art Department decorated the showcases in the main lobby of the high school with very impressive scenes appropriate to the season.

Throughout the academic school year, Room 28 continuously displayed the creations of its art students. The showcases outside Room 28 also contained the finished products of many art projects.

The Art Department has been most cooperative in designing picture posters for the various activities which took place during the year.

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT

Mr. Collier

As in past years, the Guidance Department of North Andover High School continues to provide expert help and guidance to students preparing for various future occupations.

In order to produce a "bigger and better" yearbook than ever before, members of the 1963 KNIGHT staff have given liberally of their time and effort. Soliciting ads, writing articles, selecting pictures, and meeting deadlines required many extra hours.

Intended to be a record of a four-year period, the yearbook demanded — and received — a great deal of attention. Special thanks goes to Miss Ann Wharton, faculty advisor, whose guidance was invaluable, and to the editors, Katherine Morris and Diana De-Lisle, whose efforts to coordinate and consolidate material resulted in one of the best yearbooks yet produced.

Annually the Honor Society gives a twenty-five dollar award to the student with the highest four year average in English. During the past year, the Society presented the school with two gifts: a book for the library and a directory, which will be installed upon the completion of the new building.

The annual dance sponsored by the Society, the Holly Hop, was held on December 14, 1962.

The following delegates attended from the North Andover Council: Gayle McDonald, Barbara Casey, Carol Bettencourt, Karen Bresnahan, Jackie Dyer, Sara Henry, Barbara Agey, Bernard McDonald, Warren Lodge, Nancy Beeley and John Speas.
